

CV Prof. Dr. med. Glen Kristiansen,
1969, Freiburg i.Br.

Medical Education:

Albert-Ludwigs-University, Freiburg	1988-1992
Free University, Berlin	1992-1995
Board examination as a pathologist:	March 2003
Board examination as a molecular pathologist:	November 2007
Medical thesis (Dr. med., magna cum laude, NSCLC)	2000
Postdoctoral thesis ("Habilitation", prostate cancer genes)	2004

Present Position

Full Professor (W3) and Chairman, Institute of Pathology, University Hospital Bonn, Venusberg-Campus 1, 53127 Bonn, Germany	May 2011- now
---	---------------

Previous Positions

Assistant Professor, USZ, Zurich, CH	2007-2011
Visiting Professor (Prof. M. Amin), Los Angeles, USA Los Angeles, USA	April 2010
Visiting scientist (Prof. J.I. Epstein), Baltimore, USA	Oct.-Nov. 2004
Consultant Histopathologist, Charité	2004- 2007
Specialist Registrar, Histopathology, Charité	2003-2004
Senior HO, Histopathology, Charité	1998- 2003
(Charité University Hospital (M. Dietel), Berlin, D	1998-2007)
AIP/HO, Pathology, Free University Berlin (H. Stein), Berlin, D	1996-1997

Fields of expertise: Genito-Urinary (GU) pathology, prostate cancer, breast pathology, molecular pathology and biomarkers

Publications/Metrics:

557 papers, 511 original papers, 24.450 citations, Hirsch-Index: 80 (WoS)

Professional Memberships and Associations

- United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology (USCAP)
- International Society of Urologic Pathology (ISUP), President elect
- Occupational Society of German Pathologists (BV)
- International Academy of Pathology (IAP), member of the Education Committee and advisory member of the board
- German Society for Pathology (DGP)
- Swiss Society of Pathology (SGPATH)
- American Association of Cancer Research (AACR), active member
- German prostate cancer consortium (DPKK)
- Deutscher Hochschulverband (DHV)

Bonn, 29th May 2022

Glen Kristiansen